

Armourguard S contains the maximum possible amount of ceramic micro-spheres which form a composite with far superior adhesion, abrasion and corrosion resistance than normal epoxy coatings. It is ideal for use on commercial vessels where the coating is required to withstand harsh treatment.