

The moisture content of the laminate should be checked with a moisture meter. A high reading indicates that osmosis is likely. However, if there is no sign of blistering the laminate may merely be damp in which case removal of any coatings, drying and coating with SAFEGUARD coatings will delay the onset of osmosis for many years